

To Gilmour Space,

After winning the first place in 2022 Spaceport America Cup, we will go even faster and higher next year. But such rockets won't happen without your rocket protecting shell. We're now taking sponsorship for solid, rigid rocket protective material. Your protective shell will accompany us in every launch and recovery.

We are proud of what we've achieved, and for the value we've created for our sponsors. We will print your company's logo on our rockets, attracting opportunities around Australia, US, and the world. We can establish a pipeline to channel young talents from USYD directly to your company, first an internship, then a full-time job. Opportunities with us are endless.

Together! We shoot for infinity and beyond!
